

SBS Tracts in the Philippines

Tracts have been printed for over 70 pastors and evangelists in 55 places for distribution by their teams, many to Muslim-dominated areas. Tracts in English and Cebuano are used here.

Pastor Romeo Labongray has printed most of these tracts, supplying 68 other pastors and evangelists with tracts. (954,000 tracts, probably one million by April, 2020) Three others also print tracts.

We have also supplied Audio Bibles in the Cebuano language to Pastor John Suarez, used by his team of evangelists to reach illiterate tribes in remote mountainous areas.

SBS Tracts in Kenya

Tracts have been printed for 164 churches in 31 cities and towns. Tracts in English and Swahili are mostly used here, and Luo for some areas near the eastern coast of Lake Victoria.

Pastor Steven Chuanya has printed most of these tracts. (826,000 tracts) He also did the Luo translation. Three others, including AFM Director Jeff Bys, who lives in Bungoma, also print tracts.

SBS Tracts in The Gambia

Tracts have been printed and distributed in 38 towns and villages (blue markers), many without a church. The red markers indicate villages that need French tracts (translation not finished yet). The yellow marker indicates a church that has been abandoned for decades, and is now being renovated.

The Gambia is officially English-speaking, although there are a few tribal languages, and French because of neighboring Senegal. The country is 95% Muslim, and the Muslims mostly tolerate Christians, but don't cooperate. The Muslims are 60% 'practicing', and many are curious to know more about Christianity.

So far, 67,420 tracts have been printed by a small group of young Christians that call themselves the "Gambia Tract Project". They also print and teach SBS lessons. It started in the fall of 2019 with Amadou Camara and his friend Habib Sowe, and when they led a Muslim friend, Modou Cham, to salvation, he enthusiastically joined the team. Recently a retired school teacher has joined the team. They supply tracts and lessons to 15 pastors, but do most of the distribution and teaching themselves.
